Is the Regenerative Business Summit for you?

Are you aiming toward a regenerative business? Are you curious to learn more about how a regenerative approach can boost your business' impact in the world AND your cash flow, margins and earnings?

Over the last couple of decades, the idea of regenerative business has spread from consumer products into agriculture, telecommunication, technology, fashion, and many other industries. The idea of Regeneration can now be heard everywhere. Join the founders of the field at the Regenerative Business Summit in Seattle from September 25 - 27, 2017. Learn why the early creators are still producing the most financially effective and industry-changing outcomes. Learn from their fifty-year track record of applying lessons learned from living systems to business, though few in the business world have the courage to step into this new paradigm.

"Carol Sanford Institute uniquely understands how to develop more conscious, creative, innovative, and intentional human beings. Her work contributed to exponentially increasing the value of my company and perhaps most important, helped us discover that work can be deeply fulfilling in ways that feed your soul."

Jeffrey Hollender | Founder & CEO SustainNatural.com, Founding CEO Seventh Generation

"Prepare to abandon all current thinking about what makes organizations great. Original, powerful, and persuasive, The Regenerative Business exposes the limited worldviews and minimal expectations that drive most organizations. In their place, it offers practical and insightful frameworks for creating "regenerative" processes, illustrated with successful and profitable real-world applications of these ideas. Promoting ways of seeing and being in the world that couldn't be more timely or essential."

Jessica Lipnack & David McConville | Co-chairs, Board of Directors, Buckminster Fuller Institute

"Carol Sanford Institute has fundamentally challenged and transformed the way we think about entrepreneurship, innovation, and developing our leaders. Since she began teaching at the school, the impact of Carol's regenerative frameworks and concepts has reached beyond the classroom. She has supported the students, faculty, and leadership to explore how the curriculum, learning community, and organization can form a seamless whole in pursuit of driving transformative change. "

The Regenerative Business Summit draws fiduciary leaders from across the Western Hemisphere in six industry streams: fooding, sheltering, transacting, adorning, recreating and communing.

This is not a conference—there are no keynotes, panel discussions, or experts to lecture us. Only business leaders working together as peers with systemic frameworks, tested and proven over decades to evoke powerful innovation and enlightened disruption to change industries, social systems, cultural paradigms, and governing agreements.

This highly-curated event convenes a community of powerful thinking partners for three days to push the boundaries of what is possible in each attending business. The theme of the 2017 Summit is “IN-VEST: in-vested co-creators * strategic in-vestment * engaged in-vestors.” What does it look like to design your business with a return on investment designed to shift whole systems without separating social and planetary gain from financial gain?

Each participant at the Regenerative Business Summit will work directly on their own business, using Regenerative Principles to grow their specific operations financially and responsibly. Is the Regenerative Business Summit for you? To qualify for an invitation, you must hold a fiduciary decision-making role at a for-profit business. Once you receive an invitation and register for the Summit, you will be welcomed into a community of dynamic, creative thinking partners, who also have the ability to make deep, meaningful shifts in their businesses.

You will sit in and observe “hot seat” fishbowl engagements with the founders of the field of Regenerative Business. You will access frameworks that challenge most of modern ways of doing business (especially so-called “best practices”). What you think is possible will change! Your ability to embed responsible business practice into your work will develop, increasing the vitality of social and planetary systems, alongside growing your business—all with consciousness and good conscience.
